A Valuable Publication. Wilson, Hinkle & Co., of Cincinnati, have just issued a work on the higher mathematics, by Prof. J. G. Clark, A. M., that is much inadvance of ordinary text-books on that branch. The subects of the differential and integral calculus are based on truly philosophical principles, and involves no apparent absurdities, as many others do. The theory of limits is plainly, clearly and conclusive set forth, and shown to be the only correct theory on which to base the calculus. It is condensed and exhaustive as it is possible to make a text-took on this difficult branch of the transcendents mathematics. Prof. Clark was formerly professor of mathematics in Columbian University, District of Columbia, and is now in William Jewell College, Missouri. He deserves the gratitude of lovers of mathematics for this, his first, able production, by which he has shown himself to be a mathematician of the highest order. We are condition that work will soon suppliant many now in use in our calleges. volves no apparent absurdities, as many others IMPROVEMENTS.

The event of the day was the visit of John Lee Carroll, the the day was the visit of John Lee Carroll, the Democratic convention nomines for Governor. He drove over from his place in Heward county, twenty miles distant, in an English dog-cart with a pair of fine ponies, arriving about 12 m. He was received by E. J. Hall, esq., president of the aspociation, O'H. P. Clark, E. H. Prettyman, Spencer C. Jones, William Brewer, George Peter and other prominent citizens and generally introduced. He dined in the president's tent, and left for home at 4:30 p. m. The Rockville band farnished the music for the fair. The Washingtonians present returned to this city in the excursion train, reaching here about 8:30 p. m.

COLORED SCHOOLS.

Parents' Meeting-The Spirit of Emulation. There is a lively interest, together with a pirited emulation, among the teachers, pupils nd others interested in the colored school Washington and Georgetown as to which will produce the best results. The special interest is produce the best results. The special interest is the result of a determination on the part of the teachers and pupils connected with the schools in the Second school district (which embraces the old Third and Fourth wards) to excel in general excellence. With a view to promote the laudable object a series of weekly meetings of parents have been inaugurated by the liddles connected with the Second district, the first of which was held last evening, at the John F. Cook school building, O, between Third and Fourth streets northwest. The meeting was largely attended by parents, who evidenced, not only by their presence, but by expression, the deep interest they felt in the education of their children.

The meeting was called to order precisely at 7 o'clock by Trustee Johnson, who briefly stated the chilect of the meeting, which, he said, was for the purpose of srousing the parents to the full importance of having their children promptly in he school-room at the hour designated, and further impressing them with the importance of instructing their children at home as to make them tractable in the school-room, thereby enabling the pupils to maintain a good school record. Trustee Johnson explained to those present the modus operand of the public school system, and dwelt quite freely upon the importance of parents giving their children.

The meeting was a complete success, and cuntering their children. he result of a determination on the part of the

The parents have every reason to be proud, and should exert them-selves for readering every possible aid to the effi-cient and accomplished lady teachers who are using all means in their power to make the pupils under their control stand in the front ranks. In addition to the parents' meeting, we under-stand that the ladies connected with the Second district have effected among themselves a com-plete organization, with the accomplished princi-pal of John F. Cook building, Mrs. A. P. Spencer, chairman, the main object being the furtherance of education in the district to which they have been assigned.

MORE OF THE SNYDER CASE. Captain Clarvoe Asks for an Investigation of His Conduct-The Chief of Police Approves

the Request-The robbery of Perry Bosher's store by Fd-ward W. Snyder and his confederate, and the release of the firmer from jall, together with the manner in which his liberty was produred, has caused considerable suspicion in the minds of the public that Snyler glined his freedom not only through the assistance of a pal, but was the public that Sryler gained his freedom not only through the assistance of a pal, but was aided by men occupying official positions, where they were placed to assist in detecting and punishing crime, and not to shield the evil doers.

Among the persons whose names have been connected with the release of the man John Green, of Haltimora, brought here by Mr. Layton, of the Police Court, as the impersonator of Daniel Eden, of Georgetown, is the chief of the detective corps, John A. W. Ularvoe. Injustice has been done this official in the base insinuations made against him which he is not slow to feel. Determined, however, to satisfy the public of this fact, and at the same time have the entire details of the transaction uncarthed, he has addressed the following commanication to the superintendent of police, asking for a thorough levestigation of his action in the matter referred to:

CAPTAIN CLARVOE'S LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18, 1873.

A. C. Richards, esg., Hajor and Superintendent
Metropolitan Police:
Sin: As much has been said and published in the papers of the country reflecting upon me as a detective officer of the Metropolitan police force, in connection with the release of Edward Snyder, one of the robbers of Perry's store, and the arrest and release of one John Green, of Baltimore, Md., said to have represented Mr. Edes, of Georgetown, and been Snyder's bondsman at the time he was released, I deem it only justice to myself and the reputation of the corps to which I belong to ask, through you, of the Board of Police Commissioners a thorough and impartial investigation. My actions have been questioned, motives impaged, and accusations made that I was dishonorably connected with parties in aiding and securing the liberty of the above-named man John Green. Conscious of my innocence of the charges made, and anxious to be relieved of such a stigma on my name and reputation as as man and officer, I respectfully ask for and court a rigid scrutiny of my conduct, official or otherwise.
Hoping that the request will meet with your approval, I remain, very respectfully, your obedient Servant,
MAJOR A. C. EICHARDS' REPLY. CAPTAIN CLARVOE'S LETTER.

MAJOR A. C. RICHARDS' REPLY.

DEPARTMENT OF METHOPOLITAN POLICE,
OFFICE OF MAJOR AND SUPERINTENDENT,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10, 4575.

Captain John A. W. Clarvor, Chief of Detectives:
Sin: Yours of this date regarding an investigation of the matter of your alleged connection with the release of one Edward W. Snyder, charged with the robbery of Mesers, Perry & Brothers' store recently, and the subsequent arrest and release of one John Green, charged with personating David Edes, esq., in entering ball for the said Snyder, is before me.

B White regreting that rumors and accusations connecting your name dishonorably with said transactions have become current, I deem your request highly proper. The matter will probably come beture the Hoard of Police Commissioners in due form for investigation on Thursday next, the 10th inst.

Very respectfully.

A. C. RICHARDS,
Major and Superintendent. MAJOR A. C. RICHARDS' BEPLY.

SIT WITH OPEN DOORS. As the request of Captain Olarvoe has re-ceived the approval of the superintendent of police and now passes before the Police Com-missicoers, where doubtless the investigation will police and now passes before the Folice Commissioners, where doubties the investigation will be ordered, but one more point in relation thereto remains to be considered. Let the Board of Oommissioners, or those members selected to constitute the court of inquiry, in their deliberations sit with open doors. As the chief of the detective corps has been publicly assailed as to the honesty of his doings, and demands a rigid examination under the charge, let him meet his accusers f. ce to face in an open trial, where the public can he ar all the testimosy and judge for themselves. If he be proven guilty let him bear the respocatbility: but, on the other hand, should he be found innecent, then give him, his friends and the community an opportunity to know what manner of men it is that scatter scandalous reports to the defamation of a man's character and reputation, and try to strike down the upright for the sake of gain or revenge. Let the court be an open one, therough in its examinatior, 'igid and impartial, so that at the close, no matter what the verdict may be, the commissioners will receive the support of the citizens and feel that justice has been done.

On Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, Eighth-street Synaxogue was filled to repletion to wit-ness the marriage of Mr. Isidore Saks to Miss Ida H. Heller, one of our most beautiful young ladies. Mesers. Eiseman, Frank, Raff, Gaus, Kaufman and Katsenstein, as ushers, were very attentive to the guests, and ushered the oridal party to the altar. As the bridal party entered Prof. Carl Richter performed in his finished man-ner Mendelsohn's "Wedding March," and, as the sounds of the organ were dying away, Rabbi Stern invoked the blessing of Heaven upon those who stood before him; he admonished them in who stood before him, he admonished them in eloquent and impressive words of the high duties matrimony involved; he implored them to adopt love and honor as indispensable adjuncts to matrimonial felicity. The coremony of Reformed Israelites differs very materially from the Ortho-Israelites differs very materially from the Ortho-dox, the breaking of the wine glass and the bridal party standing under a earopy being dispensed with. The services are simple and very im-pressive, and were witnessed by a large number of friends from our Northern cities. When the ceremonies were cencluded the newly-wedded pair, accompanied by their respective friends, were convexed in carriages to the residence of the bride, No. 1922 Pennsylvania avenue, where a most bountiful collation awaited them, and the bridal presents were arrayed, (only articles of silverware were exhibited.) among which were elegant sets of dinper, to and creem services. silvarware were exhibited,) among which were elegant sets of dinner, tea and cream sorrioes, spoons, see of dinner, tea and cream sorrioes, spoons, see pitchers, butter dishes and card receivers, tollet sets, a.c., the number and elaborateness of which showed that their friends were numberless. At the future residence of the wedded pair were placed the useful as well as the ornamental presents, consisting of sets of furniture, bouffets, bronnes, mirrors, clocks, &c. At dark the young friends of the family took possession of the house and dancing, music, &c., was kept up until a late hour of the night, when the company dispersed, withing the newly-married couple a pleasant voyage on the sea of life. Mr. and Mrs. I. Saks left on the 9:05 train for a bridal tour North.

The Closing Day. Testerday was tile third and closing day of the annual exhibition of the Montgomery County Ag-icultural Scriety, at Rockville, Md. The sttendance was small in comparison to the number of visitors that have attended at the previous fairs, and in this respect the exhibition caunot be called a success. The exhibitions were as nube called a success. The exhibiture were as numerous as heretofore, and the stock and wares as fine as ever presented for inspection; atili, for some unknown reason, the seciety has not been as prosperous this as in preceding years. The same interest in the success of the fair has not been manifested as formerly, and to this cause may be attributed a part of the failure. In accordance with custom, the premiums were awarded to the deserving yesterday afternoon. The heavy showers of rain in the afternoon interrupted the pleasures to a considerable extent, and caused many persons to leave the grounds sooner than they anticipated, and sadly marred the contemplated sports of the evening.

CHARGED WITH RAPE. A Colored Boy Arrested for the Crime-About 7 o'clock last evening a colored boy named Charles Toliver was arrested by Office Daily for attempting to rape a little white gir named Carrie Roseberry. Toliver is about nine named Carrie Roseberry. Toliver is about nine-teen years of age, and had been employed at the Senate restaurant, on Eleventh street, near Penn-sylvania avenue, kept by Peter Y. Roseberry, for about two days, Last evening, about 6 o'clock, while Toliver was attending to some work in the dining-room, the little girl, who is about nine years of age, entered the room, and it is there that it is alleged the attempt was made. Mrs. Roseberry stated that she sent Carrie to the dining-room to see about something in reference to Toliver's work, and happening shortly after-wards to be in the vard back of the building she beard the child scream, and looking up she saw the curtains of the dining-room windows drawn down, and at that was an anusual occurrence her suspicious were aroused.

down, and as that was an anusual occurrence ner suspicions were aroused.

She hastened up stairs, and looking in the dising-room door discovered Toliver with his hands under the clothes of the little girl, who was sitting in a high chair. Mrs. Roseberry in the excitement of the moment ran down stairs to get a weapon, but decided that the better course would be to call the child out, and bring the assailant to lustice in some other manner. course would be to call the child out, and bring the assailant to justice in some other manner. Officer Daily appeared soon, and Mrs. Roseberry stated the case to him, and he arrested Toliver and locked him up in the Central guard-house. Toliver, at the time the officer appeared, said that he knew for what he wanted him. Toliver denies that he approached the little girl indecently. He says that she came to the room where he was at work and asked for a piece of pie, saying that her mother would never give her any. While she was catting the pie which he gave her her mother called her down stairs and he could hear her in the room below asking what he (Toliver) had done to her, and trying to force a confession from her. Mrs. Roseberry then had the door locked, and he went on with his work, and when the officer came, suspecting the charge that had been made against him, he went voluntarily with him. He denied that the child had screamed while with him.

John Cooper, a man about town, and an old salt known as Skipper Dickens, and an old salt known as Skipper Dickens, shipped as deck hands. Dr. Smith Townsend was ostensibly engaged as cook, but it is thought for a darker and bloodier purpose. A large number of suspicious packages were taken aboard, and the vessel may be destined for Cuba, but from what is known of the desperate character of the parties, it is thought that if prevented from landing they will not hesitate to prey upon commerce. The Secretary of the Navy has already planned their ultimate capture.

A copious rain shower is failing. For the most part, the route is very dusty, particularly this side of the Ohio river, there having been but little rain for the last ten there having open out inter rain for the last ten days, but the crops and pastures look fresh and green. The farmers are busy putting in their winter wheat, and are sowing a large breadth. There is much corn, whichlighers heavy and lux-uriant, promising large yield. But it is sad to see little or no fruit of any kind, nearly all of the orchards having been injured and fruit buds killed by the hard winter and the spring frests. AMERICAN POMOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

The fourteenth blennial meeting of this society assembled for opening business in the ladies' ordinary of the Grand Pacific hotel at 10 o'clock on Wednesday, September 8, 1875.

Hon. Marshall P. Wilder, the president, called Hon. marsasi r. whose, the pressent, called the meeting to order in a handsome speech of congratulation and welcome, and introduced Dr. E. S. Hull, president of the Illinois State society, who made a brief but neat speech of welcome to the American Pomological Society. President Wilder responded in an eloquent speech on the Wilder responded in an eloquent speech on the importance, progress and improvement of horticulture and pomology in our country, and said that further improvements would be made, and that union and good fellowship would be promoted by the action and advancement of this industry and society.

The president then announced the several committees to serve the convention. Representatives are present from most of the States. The delegates from the Potomac Fruit Growers' Society who are here are the following: John Saul, Hilman Troth, Edward Daniels, Mrs. Harriet N. Nute, D. S. Curtiss, S. E. Chamberlain and A. J. Beil. These are all that your reporter has seen at the meeting.

Mr. P. Barry, Rochester, N. Y., is the chairman of committee te make nominations of officers for the society, the serve the next blennial term.

Dr. Hamilton, of Nova Scotia, is the chairman of the committee on credentials.

The president announced that there were several cessys on different subjects, which it was proposed should be read at the evening session, but Mr. Barry thought time could be better spent in discussions and other ways than listening to essays, as they could be printed in the proceedings and read at ary time by those who wished; and this view prevailed, and it was so ordered. Adjourned till three o'clock p. m. to give committee time to work, and allow exhibitors time to arrange their fruits.

The exhibition and display of fruits and flowers is held in the south end of the great buildings of the Inter-State Exposition.

Among the fine shows, already arranged for examination, are: From District of Columbia John Saul, spiendid poars, peaches, appies and some others. Mrs. Harrist Nute, pears, peaches and spiles.

Bracksurdige, State society, the show of pears, apples and other fruits.
Illinois—Hanfock county and some other societies show splendid fruits.
Mississippi—D. Redmond, of Gean Springs, shows pomegranates, bananas, oranges and other fruits of fine quality. These specimens attracted much attention. finits of fine quality. These specimens attracted much attention.

New York—Moody & Sons, of Lockport, N. Y., make a hapdrome show of several sorts, including applet, pears, peaches, grapes, &c.

James H. Ricketts shows the finest display of seedling gripes (ority nine varieties) to be seen to the building. One exhibitor remarked that this was the usest valuable sequisition yet to the grapes of this country. We have never seen there grapes any where.

Thus far in quality of fruits this subbitton does not equal that shown as Richmond in 1871, but he best specimens are equal to the best then athibited. Mere may come in from other States to-night.

Nearly every night mourners are comforted and believers strengthened in the faith. Last Sabbath was the occasion of our educational anniversary. The Rev. John Emory Round, president of the Baltimore Biblical Institute, preached the sermon. It was timely and appropriate. At 3 o'elock a Sabbath school service of a highly interesting character was held under the direction of the Hon. George C. Round, superintendent of the school. At 250 Love-feast, under the direction of Rev. William Round, of the Wyoming Conference, was held, followed with the administration of the Sactament by the pastor of the church, assisted by the Rounds. Methodist Episcopalians, Protestant Episcopalians, Presbyterians and sensible people generally participated, making, perhaps, the largest communion service ever held in Manssas. The Rev. Dr. William Bradly, of the Baltimore presbytery, makes us a fraternal visit, and will preach for us this evening. We are expecting a visit from Bishop Whittle also. The Methodist bishops don't seem to get time to visit places of so little magnitude as this. Next Thursday, on the lot at the corner of North and S streets, the great New York and N'ent and S streets, the great New York and New Orieans Zoological and Equestrian Exposition will open for two days. For the details of this affair reference should be made to the advertisement. We have the best reasons for believing that the circus is one of the best, and that it has all the coological attractions claimed for it. It will remain only two days, giving four performances. The announcement in Washington that a circus is coming is quite aufficient to set crasy the old and young alike, and they will need no encouragement to attend this one.

Contraction, on the other hand, as provided for by the act of 1876, will cause this "private and public bankruptop," for which the Republican party is responsible and ought, therefore, be driven from power. But IT IS TO LATE TO MAKE THREE CHARGES NOW.

power. But

It is TOP LAYE TO MAKE THESE CHARGES NOW.

The people of Obio are terribly in earnest. They are defermined to think and act for themselves—the result of which will be made known eart Uctober. As I remarked at the beginning of this letter, the people are feeling sondernt of success, and are working with a great deal of caracterses and vigor. On my way from Obselmantico Springfield, I fortunately came in contact with soveral persons whem I found to be sociable and talkativa, and with these, deeply concerned as they seemed to be about the affairs of their Stata, I conversed with much freedom and ease. I confess that I was greatly surprised to find so few persons speak favorably of Mr. Allen's success, though many of them attributed his unpopularity, particularly amongithe moneyed mee, to the unfortunate particular in which he has been placed by some of the more ambitious leaders of his party in regard to the question of finance. Arriving at Springfield in the early part of the afternoon, I was met at the depot by Mr. Ward, a prominenteltism of that town, who seemed really enthusiastic over the glowing prospects of Clark county. The people are doubtless more actively engaged in the canvass than they have been for some time before. Senator Morton had just delivered one of his brilliant campaign speeches there in Black's Opera House to an immense audience, the people turning out in a manner which indicated that they really meant business. Leaving Clark, my next stopping place was in Lorain county, where Republicanism for years has been largely in the accodency. The people of this county seem to give themseves no uneasiness about how the county will go. That is a settled and fixed thing. The people of this county were requality of rights" in its widest sense. This is the COUNTY Of COLLEGES, AND 15 THE SEAT OF for nearly this whole State. At Oberlin resided some of the ploneers who followed John Brown.

At Wellington occurred the memorable rescue.

The people look upon these historic incidents with pride. One of the first speeches that has been delivered in the State was unmistakably that delivered in Wellington about the middle of last month by Gen. Grosvenor, of St. Louis. I was present on the occasion of its delivery, by an inwitation of a gentleman of that town, for whom I shall ever entertain the pleasantest recollection.

At Uleveland, where I spent several days, I found that the people were aroused to the importance attached to the coming contest, and they were actively at work. Though they were upon the eve of holding their convention to make nominations for the Legislature and other city officers, this had no effect, as is often the case in large cities, in diverting them from the real questions about which the records. arge cities, in diverting them from the real que tions about which the people of the entire Stat were particularly anxious. THERE CANNOT BE ANY DOUBT

THERE CANNOT BE ANY DOUBT but what this will make a splendid showing for the Republican party on the 12th of next October. The people mean to show their patriotism them with real and determination. They mean to preserve the honor and credit of their country at home and abroad by demanding a speedy return to speeie payment. They mean to retain their common school system free from all sectarian interference; to hold the school fund indivisible; to sustain the glorious record of the Republican party in this State, and to return that party to power which, Gov. Allen said, had been in power for nearly twenty years, and there "could not be found, after the most carrigit exemination, a single case of official corruption." About these things the people mean business, and, as I have already remarked, they are terribly in carnest.

THE OHIO CAMPAIGN.

Ceneral Stewart L. Woodford on Resumption On the 6th instant General Woodford ad-dressed the people of the manufacturing com-munity of Youngstown, Ohio. The following exthe late Judge Wm. D. Kelley, who recently tract will show how he met some of the sophistries of the late Judge Wm. D. Kelley, who recently addressed the same people:

Here is a five-dollar gold piece, coined in 1705, the first gold coinage, I believe, of this nation. Here is a greenback, printed in 1875, whereon the United States promises to pay five dollars. The gold piece is a fact. It is money, hard, substantial money the world over. This Union might dissolve. The United States, whose name and stamp this coin bears, might pass away, and yet this gold would have actual, tangible, convertibe value in London and China alike. For all the world, except possibly some isolated savage tribe, has made and recognized gold as a universal standard of value and measure of exchange.

The paper greenback is a promise, that and nothing more. A promise may be much, may be all sufficient. It may be little, it may be nothing. These are ability and good faith. One may be absolutely bonest in his purpose, and yet utterly upon his promise. If you had his note and nothing else as means to meet and pay your own due on a given day you would reasonably expect that your own would be protested. One may be clearly able to keep his word and yet be evidently disposed to avoid and evade its fulfillment. It would be unsate to place absolute faith in him. When pay-day comes he will certainly put you to all possible delays, and, if he can find any loop-hole to defeat your claim, will deny and then repudiate his word. Just in proportion to ABILITY AND GOOD PAITE COMBINED is the value of a promise. When both are absolute, your faith in the promise becomes absolute. Such a promise is worth as much as the accomplished fact. Hence we say of some men: "Their simple word is as good as any bond." Hence a Bank of England note is worth to-day, at any commercial centre in the world, insta s much as Bank of England note is worth to-day, at any commercial centre in the world, just as much as the gold it promises to pay. Everybody knows that the bank has gold to pay for its notes, and is ready to pay that gold whenever these notes are presented at its counter. Hence the Bank of England note will buy just as much as the gold coin it represents. This five-dollar greenback will not, however, buy as much as this five-dollar gold-piece.

THE DIFFERENCE ON EACH DOLLAR is to day about fourteen cents; on the five dollars it amounts to seventy cents. Quite a perceptible difference. The gold pleece will buy as much as the greenback and seventy cents of fractional currency added thereto. This difference of fourteen cents in purchasing power between each gold dollar and each greenback dollar represents just the general doubt of the people at large as to when the United States can and will pay a gold dollar on demand for each greenback dollar. If the Government both could and would make such payment to day, you would be just as willing to have the greenback as the coin. The greenback would buy as much as the coin. The greenback would be, in commercial language, at par with gold. THE DIFFERENCE ON EACH DOLLAR gold.

The present difference between the two we all see and feel. It represents, as I have said, of the people. Whence does this doubt spring? Partly from the fact that we all know that the Government has not the gold wherewith to redeem or fulfill in coin its paper promises, which we cail greenbacks. Partly from the fact that we do not see that the Government is taking immediate and effective steps to prepare with absolute certainty for such redomption, or, as is popularly said, resumption. But mainly from the fact that a considerable portion of our people not only discourage and oppose anything that looks like an honest fulfillment or payment of the national premises to pay aiready issued, but while seeking to evade these, actually THE GENERAL DOUBT AND MISTRUST dollar.

And here let me pause one moment for an explanation that simple justice requires.

In stating the elements of this popular doubt, I have mentioned that the Government is not taking immediate and effective steps to prepare with absolute certainty for such redemption, or in popular phrase, resumption. JUSTICE TO THE ADMINISTRATION requires me to add that the President has faithfully sought issued preparation, and has been steadily and characteristically resolute in his purpose to faifil the nation's promise, and so make the greenback at par in gold at the earliest practicable day. His brave denial when the merchants of New York pleaded with him for violation of the law in 1873, his still braver veto of the first financial bill of 1874 have been the dykes beyond which the tides of infiation could not pass. His surely was the voice that firmly said in the test hour: "Thus far, but no farther." His the hand that kept the helm steady when we were almost among the breakers and on the lee shore, so that the ship of our credit is to day at least pointed towards the sure haren of resumption, and at the manthead floats the flag bearing these words: "Honesty, good faith and gold."

But one appresent that this matter of further in. gold."

But one suggests that this matter of further in-faction on the one hand or resolute decision to prepare for resumption on the other

IS NOT A QUESTION OF HONESTY, States will pay the bearer five dollars." These are words so direct and simple that none can misunderstand their meaning. They are the solema promise of this great nation to pay dollars. There is no pretense on this piece of paper that it, the paper, is the dollar. It is only, as it only claims to be, a promise to pay dollars. What is a dollar! What is the thing that this paper rounds to the paper, in and of itself as paper, is only worth what any good second-hand paper is worth—a few cents per pound. Its value is in the promise printed on it. The value of that promise is in the ability and intention of the United States to keep the promise. When kept this paper is as good as gold. When broken the printed bill will be worth less than the unprinted sheet. The ink that means gold will have made this paper good as gold.

as gold.

THE INK THAT MEANS A LIE

will have solied the paper. When all shall know that it is a lie, the paper will have no value save sa second-hand scrape or rags, from which new mapristed sheets can be again made. What, then, is a deliar? It is something back of the paper promise which the United States declare what is a deliar? It is a coin weighing twentyfive and eight tenth grains of standard gold.
This don is the deliar which the Government promises to pay. It is, therefore, a matter of direct, square, deliberate promise or pledge. The solemn word of the United States has been givenfirst to its soldiers, and then to every one who has received these bills by transfer or exchange—to pay the bearers of these bills. CTUAL DOLLARS, HOWEST DOLLARS, GOLD DOL ls it then a question of honesty or expediency whether we will keep this promise or not? I grant you there may be a question of ability to pay. There should be none of intention. An honest man may by misfortune be unable to pay his honest debts, but if he would remain honest he must not deny his promise nor yest delay nor shink its fuifillment one hour beyond the day when he becomes able to pay. Meanwhile he must faithfully try to get in debt no deeper.

As to the ultimate ability of this great nation to pay its debts, I shall not insuit either your intelligence or patriotism by prolonged discussion. OUR MILES AND MIRED WITH COAL.
